BASEBALL TREATY OF PEACE AWAITS ONLY SIGNATURES

Warring Magnates Gather for Final Meeting To-Day in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.—Baseball peace was at hand to-day when the warring magnates met at the Hotel Stanton to await the signing of the formal treaty. The affairs of the International League which have threatened to become as serious an obstacle to peace as the Federal's demands had been, have been settled, according to official announcement from the meeting, and to-day's pact, disposing of them, was the final step in calling off the hostilities. When the Fed's anti-trust suit pending in Chicago would be withdrawn was not known to-day, but the magnates appeared to have an understanding on that matter. The Baltimore Fed's demand for a place in the International League was the bump in the road to amity which for a time defied steamrollers in the big meeting, but optimistic official statements from the trenches indicated the Baltimore owners at last had been placated. There was plenty of speculation, but it was only speculation concerning the fate of players holding war-time contracts. President Ban Johnson of the American League issued a statement that the player situation had been discussed and "about settled." These details also were hoped for to-day. The men who are drawing up the peace pact, which members of the National Commission and Federal League leaders expect to sign some time to-day, are: Judge George H. Williams, St. Louis, attorney for the American League; John M. Galvin, Cincinnati, attorney for the National League; and S. L. Swartz, St. Louis, Federal counsel. The agreement will provide for the disbandment of the Federal League and the purchase of two or more clubs in organized baseball by the Federal League magnates. Charles Weeghman of Chicago will buy the Chicago Cubs, Harry F. Sinclair, the Newark angel, may buy a club, probably the St. Louis Browns. If this deal goes through, it is reported Phil Ball, backer of the St. Louis Federal, will get the Cardinals. Ed. Gwinn, the Pittsburgh Federal magnate, is to put his money in the Cleveland American League club. President Harry Hempstead of the New York Giants, to-day spiked a report from New York that the Giants were dickerin' with Benny Kauff to play in the outfield for McGraw. "Nothing in that report," said Hempstead. "It would not be honorable to deal for peace with the Federal, and at the same time try and sign one of their players. There still is a suit against us instigated by Kauff for $5,000, and this may have led to the report that we were dickerin' with the Federal star."
